Cuban Talk—The Underwriters—
The Revival—Pedestrianism—To Be Hanged.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Advises received in Cuban political circles in this city from Paris state that on the 25th instant the Secretary of the Spanish Navy at Madrid issued orders to the Carraca Navy Yard to get the Spanish iron-clads Zarzaza, Arapiles, Tetuan, Victoria, Unamania and other wooden vessels sent on and around the Spanish coast, ready for service in the West Indies. Also, that the appointment of General Ceballos to succeed Count Valmaseda in command of the Island of Cuba is a foregone conclusion with the Cabinet, Valmaseda refusing to remain longer.

The Executive Committee of the National Board of Fire Underwriters have adopted resolutions recognizing the propriety of the underwriting interests of this country being represented in the Philadelphia Centennial Exhibition, and inviting all fire insurance companies in the United States to join in securing a full representation in the Centennial, and appointing a committee to confer with similar committees from other boards and associations of insurance companies to perfect the necessary measures. The committee appointed is as follows: Chas. Platt, Chairman, of Philadelphia; J. B. Hall, of Columbus, O.; Geo. T. Crane, of St. Louis; Henry Kellogg, of Hartford, Conn.; Albert Banker, of Boston, Mass.; and the officers of the Board.

Revival meetings, under the auspices of Moody and Sankey at Brooklyn Tabernacle, continue to be crowded with interesting spectators. Among the spectators yesterday were Henry Ward Beecher and daughter. Mr. Moody says the revival will continue in Brooklyn until the 21st, after which Philadelphia will be the scene of operations. Regarding services to be conducted in New York, Mr. Moody says the arrangements for securing the Hippodrome have not yet been completed, but probably would by February, 1st, which is the date at which the work will begin here.

About two thousand persons attended the first day of the international pedestrian meeting at North Haven yesterday. In the five-mile running race six started, viz: Maloney, of Fall River; Cooney, of London, England; Fitzgerald, of New York; Wilson, of Hartford, Conn.; and Keranawer, an Indian of Montana.

The race lay between Fitzgerald and Keranawer. Maloney, Cooney and Wilson withdrew after completing three miles. Fitzgerald and the Indian took the lead after running a mile, and kept together until within 300 yards of the finish, when the Indian won.

ish, when the men ran at a tremendous pace. The Indian, with a wonderful burst of speed, finally took the lead and won the race. Time, 29:01. Fitzgerald's time was 29:11, and Connolly's, 29:40.

The one hundred-yard race was won by Geo. Livingston, of New York, who beat Maloney, of Newark, and John Allison, of Fall River. Time, 11 seconds. The trial of Chas. A. Weston, charged in connection with Ellis and Thompson, with the murder of a peddler, A. Weissburg, took place yesterday.

The evidence was the same as that given yesterday in the trial of his accomplices. The jury, after an absence of about ten minutes, returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. Judge Barrett sentenced Weston to be hanged in the Tombs December 17th, the same day appointed for the execution of Ellis and Thompson.

Washington.
The New Russian Minister—
Witowski; Case—Mail Connections.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The newly-appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of Russia was yesterday presented to the President by Secretary of State, on which occasion he addressed the President as follows: "Mr. President—His Majesty, the Emperor, in sending me as his representative to the United States, ordered me to do all in my power to maintain that harmony which has ever prevailed in the relations existing between the American nation and Russian people, as well as between their respective Governments. I need not assure your Excellency that it will afford me the greatest pleasure to faithfully carry out the wishes of my august master, and I flatter myself, Mr. President, that you will not refuse me your kind co-operation. Permit me, on this occasion, to place in your Excellency's hands two letters from my august master, one of which terminates the mission of my predecessor, Baron Offenberg, and the other accredits me to your Government in the capacity of Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary."

The President replied as follows: Mr. Chirkine: I receive you with pleasure as the representative of your sovereign. In giving you the orders of which you speak he showed a just appreciation of the importance of the relations between the United States and the Empire of Russia; an appreciation in which I concur. I trust that you will, by your course, faithfully interpret His Majesty's friendly sentiments, and you may be sure that I will heartily co-operate therein.

The Grand Jury of the District of Columbia returned indictments against Julius Witowski, of Nashville, Tenn., and four others engaged with him in defrauding the Government of over $30,000 on a bogus claim. A full history of this swindle in St. Louis from the East to Witowski were published in these dispatches some weeks since.

The President of the Toledo, Wabash and Western Railroad Company has notified the Post-office Department that on and after Sunday next they will make their arrivals in St. Louis from the East in connection with fast mail at about 1 P. M., the time of arrival of the fast mail by the Penn. Central Line. This will give St. Louis some connection with the fast mail, as with the limited mail from New York.

Brigham's Trouble—Relief.
SALT LAKE, Oct. 30.—Judge Foreman, in the Third District Court, has just decreed that the order made by Chief Justice McKean, ordering Brigham Young to pay Ann Eliza Young $9,500 alimony, be enforced, and that Brigham Young be imprisoned until the same is paid with costs. A United States Marshal, with Deputies, immediately arrested Brigham, who was in bed at his residence.

At the request of the Marshal two physicians examined Young, and pronounced him too weak to be removed without endangering his life. He refuses to pay money, and must be removed. This decision in no way bears on the question of or recognizes polygamy.

A mass meeting was held last night for relief of the Virginia R.R. sufferers. The city subscribed $500, and citizens $1,000.

A Lively Political Row and other Chicago Doings.
CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—An enormous and most enthusiastic merchants meeting was held at Farwell Hall last night to protest against the action of the County Commissioners in allowing one Judge to each precinct. George Armour presided. Mr. Larned and Thomas Herne spoke. While reading the resolutions, A. C. Hoising, editor of the States Zealot, and candidate for County Treasurer, advanced to the platform to protest against the statements reflecting on him. The utmost confusion ensued, lasting an hour. Hand to hand fights occurred in parts of the hall. Desperate but unsuccessful attempts of Hession followed to reach the platform. Order was finally restored.

John V. Farwell then spoke as the meeting adjourned. Great excitement prevailed at the alleged organized attempt made to break up the meeting. Republicans claim the election on Tuesday for their side by a large majority.

We still have unfavorable reports of the hog cholera, which is taking off thousands of swine in Indiana, Missouri, Illinois, Ohio and other Western States.

The Board of Trade will close on election day, Tuesday, and many saloons will also close. Every effort will be made to guard the polls from fraud.

Nothing of public interest was done at the meeting, it being merely an informal talk relating to the affairs of the road and its interests. The N. Y. and Boston details were also present. The general condition and prospects of the road were found to be excellent.

The Fire This Afternoon.
The alarm of fire at 2 o'clock this afternoon was caused by a fire in the roof of the building Nos. 204 250 and 261 Walnut street.

The fire originated in the roof of the building, near the northwest corner, and is supposed to have come from the flues. The flames had gained considerable headway before the engines arrived, but as we go to press the indications are that it is under control.

The building is owned by the Day estate, or more properly by Mrs. Mary J. Johnson, of New York, the owner of the estate. The first floor is occupied by the tailor firm of Nieman & Morion, and by Fisher, the clothing manufacturer. The upper floors are occupied as offices and tailor shops. WHAT MR. CAPPELLAR SAYS.
Mr. Cappellar was found at his desk in the Auditor's office, disposing of business in his prompt, rapid, energetic manner, but as usual ready for a kind word or to impart any needed information. A shadow of annoyance flitted across his usually bright and cheerful countenance at the mention of an "interview," but he in a moment replied in his usual frank, straightforward manner:

"Well, I don't know much about the matter. A great many of my friends have come to me, recently, telling me that Mr. Wahle would likely be removed, and asking me to apply for the office. I have a good many German friends, having some German blood in my veins, and many of them have especially urged me to take hold of the matter. I have invariably replied that I did not wish to make a fight for it, and that I thought I was doing sufficient in my work here. To the question, whether I would accept the position if offered me, I—having had nearly ten years experience as Postmaster—have replied that I would be very ungrateful not to do so, and now knew of no reason to prevent an acceptance should the position offer. I understand that some prominent Republicans are taking considerable interest in pushing the affair, but I am giving the matter but little attention."

From present probabilities, gleaned from other sources, it would appear that if any change is made Mr. Cappellar will receive the appointment. No man in Hamilton county has been more efficient in the prevention of fraud in the matter of tax paying and county affairs in general than Mr. Cappellar, and no one did more for the success of the Republicans during the recent campaign. His fitness for the position is beyond question.

WHAT POSTMASTER WAHLE SAYS.
The STAR representative who called upon Mr. Wahle this morning was politely received by him and invited into his private office. Mr. Wahle's statement was very brief, and of a conservative nature, showing the little notice in a morning contemporary was the first intimation he had of any proposed removal from his office, although at different times persons who have become offended at him on account of his refusal to make appointments desired by them, had given rise to just such rumors.

Mr. Wahle's relations with his superior officers, as far as they are known, have always been not only of a friendly nature, but their reports as to his duties as Postmaster of the fifth office in size in the United States, have been very flattering. Where this rumor originated, or by whom circulated, he has no positive knowledge, any more than that the friends of Mr. Daniel Webster, who was an applicant for the position at the same time he (Mr. Wahle) was proposed, have not given him the encouragement they should, but a certain few of them have indicated towards him a spirit of envy. Officially, he has received not even a rumor as to a contemplated change, and can only base an opinion as to the way and wherefore of the story circulated. He feels confident that he has performed his duties satisfactorily to the Government, and has always endeavored to attend to them to the best of his ability. Should as to a thing as his removal occur, he can leave the office with a clear conscience and feeling that his management of the office was conducted under proper principles.

A large lake has been discovered about forty miles west of Laramie, Wyoming Territory, in the bottom of which is a thick layer of sulphate of magnesia or epsom salts, almost in a pure state. Now find us another "large lake" filled with castor oil, and we may "throw physic to the dogs."
